

COLLOQUIUM ON LATIN AMERICA

CALL FOR PAPERS

We are pleased to inform you that we regularly host the Colloquium on Latin America online, in collaboration with the University of Bayreuth, once each winter and summer term. The Colloquium provides a space for the academic discussion from different perspectives, and we would much appreciate your participation as a scholar who has researched topics related to Latin America. Proposals from sociology, anthropology, history, political science, cultural studies and all disciplines related to social sciences, humanities and inter- as well as transdisciplinary approaches are welcome. Dates and time will be confirmed as soon as possible.

Your proposal should be based on scientific research and prepared for a 30 – 40 minutes presentation.

Want to present your research?

If you would like to participate as a speaker, please send us:

1. Your abstract

- With: title, 5 keywords, methods, theories, findings
- max. 200 words
- Language: English
- Short Abstract (1 sentence summary)

2. Brief biographical information

- With: name, highest academic title(s), affiliation(s)
- Max. 100 words
- Optionally: foto, social media (Instagram, LinkedIn)
